breeders are endeavouring to breed a polled strain. One group is using American and New Zealand polled stock; the other is starting up a longer breeding program using a Galloway bull as the polled factor. Neither group is now recognized by the parent Hereford body but both eventually hope for inclusion in the Hereford Book of Records.

SUFFERER—Kerenka Collins, six months old, holds her breath as he waits for "Pooter" put stomach of the Henningsen, Calif. family, to tempt her activity elsewhere. Adopted by "Budd" and his wife, the baby would pout as he has caused not one parent's worth of trouble.

CALCULATED CRUELTY—A treatment of "calculated cruelty" is being given to U.S. Army trainees in Rome, Italy, to toughen them against treatment they might receive if they fall into the hands of an unscrupulous enemy. A soldier is shown in the "hole" where he spent hours underground, chamber deep in water.

ART OF DIPLOMACY—Featured above is the master portrait of "Portrait of a Girl," executed by United States Ambassador to Italy, Charles Douglas Luce. She is reported to have been photographed in her civilian undergarments by advice from President Eisenhower and a girl art set from the Winston Churchill. Art critics say the picture is famous in this one of her first paintings.

TULIP BULBS FROM HOLLAND—Stella Kohns of Ottawa brought a few of the 200,000 bulbs which have just arrived from the Netherlands for planting on federal property in the Capital. Canada imports 42,000,000 bulbs from Holland every year, including tulips, carnations, hyacinths and others.
